

BACHELOR OF DESIGN ARTS AT A GLANCE

The degree course offered at the Academy leads to the Bachelor of Design Arts, accredited by government. The course, of 300 credit points, comprises three years of full-time study or part-time equivalent. In some circumstances a student may exit after two years with an Associate degree in Design Arts (200 points).

Students undertake a major study in either communication design, fashion & costume design, filmmaking & photography, graphic & digital design, interior design or visual arts, and complete an elective sub-major in a field other than their major study. The Academy is not obligated to deliver particular units in any given year, or to deliver them in the manner described. The Academy reserves the right to discontinue or vary courses at any time without notice.

Students should check with the relevant Academy course coordinators when planning their courses. Some courses and units described may change or may not be offered due to insufficient enrolments or changes to teaching staff.